What to do on a rainy day? Load up the van with a bunch of friends and head off on a Chenin Blanc safari....

One is spoiled for choice at Spier. This was our fourth stop for the day. I counted about 8 different Chenin Blanc wines on offer, two notably very low in alcohol. They currently have a "Cheers to Chenin" special where a curated case of 6 special Chenin Blanc wines are offered at a discounted price and delivered free of charge if you cannot visit the farm. We were once again charmed by the "singing stones" in the park next to the wine tasting room. Old fossil rocks are imbedded with raw electro-magnetic readings which resound stunningly if you move your hands around the rocks.

@cheninblanca @Beaumont Wines #DrinkChenin #CheninSafari We dropped in to Beaumont Wines in Botrivier. What a pleasant surprise, a delightful stop very much worth visiting. Amazing wines and DO order their Hugo Spritzer, made with Chenin Blanc.

 zack.singletrack What a good idea. On my off days, I'm taking part in a Chenin Safari 🤔🤔

Basically you ride a route at each of the wine farms that make Chenin, take a pic at the tasting room, and then you get a funky shirt with all the wine farms badges on that you have done.

Today we rode @wildekrans & @beaumontwines today. Wonderful trails & beautiful scenery.
